

FORDHAM ELEVEN LEADER OF LOCALS

Impressive Exhibition Against Susquehanna Placed the Maroon in Front Rank.

COLUMBIA MUST IMPROVE

Bringing defeat for two of the four teams, last Saturday was not what might be called a successful day for the college football eleven of the metropolitan section. Fordham defeated Susquehanna in its last home game, Tech scored over Worcester Poly, 6 to 0, and Columbia was beaten by Union, 6 to 0, and New York University was whipped by Wesleyan, 14 to 0.

By far the most impressive exhibition on Saturday was given by Fordham. Susquehanna had beaten Bucknell and was expected to give the Maroon a pretty hot fight, but all around excellence of the Fordham attack and its splendid defense made Susquehanna look like a high school outfit. It is greatly to be deplored that Fordham has not a more pretentious schedule.

However, it will be able to give the football world an index to its real calibre when it plays Tech at home here Saturday. Georgetown's defeat of Dartmouth places the Washington eleven among the toppers, and a victory over Exeter will give Fordham commensurate honors.

Fordham did not show many weaknesses against Susquehanna, but the Pennsylvania team took too long to give the locals a real test. Fordham uncovered several plays that looked decidedly good and seemed to appeal to the Georgetown scouts on deck. Next Saturday Fordham will take on Pennsylvania Military College team, and it is not likely they will give Fordham any serious opposition.

Yale and Princeton Even in Football Development

Elis' Great Backfield Counterbalances Tigers' Superb Line—Harvard Third in Nearly Every Department—Saturday Produced Many Upsets.

By DANIEL.

Though none of the eleven generally recognized as contenders for the Eastern championship were bowled over, last Saturday produced the season's biggest crop of form reversals in intercollegiate football. Yale rested after Friday's victory over Virginia Polytechnic, while Princeton and Harvard, in their scoring lambores at the expense of Lafayette, respectively, gave some definite indication of the kind of football toward which they are pointing.

The day of upsets left Syracuse, Penn State and Dartmouth wondering on what their opponents were expecting. The week that they had given so great a Syracuse was hardest hit. In high hopes of a victory over Pittsburgh, Bill Hollenback's eleven was not only stunned by a 29 to 0 defeat, but was outplayed, outgeneraled and outplayed at every stage of the battle.

In the Swarthmore's victory over Pennsylvania the week before, Penn State was led to believe that it might repeat its success of 1915, but Howard Berry's eleven put new strength and spirit into the team. It was not until some time after Dartmouth got over the setback suffered at the hands of Georgetown, only a victory over Princeton Saturday will make it a victory, but hardly likely—will make up for the whipping by Gilroy and his associates.

4 TEAMS REMAIN IN "BIG NINE" RACE

Championship Field Narrowed Down by Saturday's Football Upsets.

MINNESOTA IS FAVORITE

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Upsets in the race for "Big Nine" football championship have narrowed the field down to four teams: Minnesota, Northwestern, Wisconsin and Ohio State. Northwestern, which conceded a fighting chance, is not regarded as strong enough.

Northwestern's 10 to 0 triumph over Chicago, its first in fifteen years, and Ohio State's victory over Illinois were the biggest surprises of yesterday's action. Northwestern's victory over Illinois was a surprise, but Northwestern's victory over Chicago was a surprise.

The spectacular playing of Capt. Briggs, who was named as the best player in the "Big Nine" by the Chicago Tribune, was a surprise. He was named as the best player in the "Big Nine" by the Chicago Tribune.

Columbia Disappointed

Columbia's exhibition against Union demonstrated that Metcalf's men will have to make big and rapid strides this week if they are to make a good showing against Williams next Saturday. Columbia came very near beating Union's aggregation, but the locals were very weak in several departments.

For one thing, Columbia's interference was of the very elementary variety. Its punting was not of the college standard either. It appears to be a team that might make the most of an open attack, and the sooner that is developed the better for Columbia. Union showed a great player in Capt. Ray.

Yale's Fine Backfield

Princeton has the fastest ends, with the Harvard pair ranking second, but for forward passing purposes the Tiger line must take last place. Highley and Wilson, the Princeton pair, are the best in the "Big Three" in the line. The Princeton pair are the best in the "Big Three" in the line.
